To Whom It May Concern;

I am currently the bookkeeper for several different companies and have been working closely with Vision Financial Group CPA, LLC for consulting and accounting for over 3 years. Vision Financial Group is consistent and thorough and always available to answer my questions and give me direction when needed.

About a year ago, I took over the books for another company which was nothing short of a disaster. I tried to convince my new client that using the consulting and accounting services of Vision Financial would be extremely beneficial to his business. It was obvious his accountant was in over his head trying to manage 12 checking accounts with approximately 9 entities tied to the business and taxes still not close to being prepared on September 6th for the September 15th filing deadline. Finally, after much convincing as well as noting the crucial filing deadline, my new client agreed to work with Vision Financial. We met with Jake Ansel and his team who stepped up to the challenge. I was not able to provide them with any kind of organization; I gave them bank statements and handwritten notes to work with but Jake and his team were able to complete them in time. Vision did an outstanding job with very little time to do it.

If you are looking for an outstanding accounting firm i highly recommend Vision Financial Group CPAs, LLC. Their knowledge and customer service is superb and they are by far the most trustworthy consulting and accounting firm I have ever worked with.
